Music of DSBN's Students Fills the Airwaves

Most students are not in the holiday spirit in the fall, but for those singing in school choirs, it is the time when rehearsals for the holidays are in full swing.

This year, students had the opportunity to work with Giant FM to record holiday songs. The idea was the brainchild of Rita Fournier, morning radio personality with the station. "We have a community-focused station, so I thought it would be a great way for listeners to hear the talent in our student community," she explains.

Ten DSBN school choirs will be featured on Giant FM 91.7 singing holiday songs. Students at A.K. Wigg Public School, F.J. Rutland Public School, Grimsby Secondary School, Pelham Centre Public School, Princess Elizabeth Public School, River View Public School, Ross Public School, Valley Way Public School, W.E. Brown Public School, and Kernahan Park Secondary School all worked hard with their music teachers to prepare for their Giant FM recording.

The special needs students at Kernahan Park Secondary School created an original song for the radio station, which has earned them local notoriety. They have been featured in the St. Catharines Standard, and they will be performing the song for a video as well.
